

HELM IN MOTION

Chemicals marketing by HELM AG – the all-in-one service

In its role as a multifunctional marketing group, HELM AG is the link between the producers of chemical commodities and the manufacturing industry. Trademarks of the HELM Group are its convincingly skilled specialist staff, an international organization and a comprehensive all-in-one service. HELM is a reliable partner, as the long-term contracts with global suppliers and customers show.

- HELM has a presence in the world's major markets through branch offices and company participation in 31 countries.
- HELM takes care of distribution and marketing for the producers of chemicals, saving them the costs and risks of building their own distribution organizations.
- HELM operates distribution and cargo terminals close to customers for regular just-in-time delivery, with capacity available to third parties.
- HELM supplies a wide range of good quality products from the industry's very best enterprises.
- HELM offers professional logistics services and ensures scientific and technical product support.
- HELM maintains permanent contact with the manufacturing industry. Serviced by seven sales offices in Germany, for example, our regular customers include 1,000 of the nation's medium-sized companies and each of the large chemicals companies.

They all appreciate the comprehensive range and the all-in-one service we offer. If you are about to make important decisions on buying or selling any kind of chemical:

Please ask HELM AG. We are there to help.
